

Make Christmas Tree Slime for the Holidays

SUPPLIES NEEDED

- 6 oz. Elmer's Clear Glue
- 2 drops Christmas Tree Blend Essential Oil (Optional)
- 1 tablespoon Christmas Confetti (or any type of confetti and glitter)
- 1 tablespoon of water
- 1 teaspoon of baking soda
- 2 tablespoons of contact solution (you might need more depending on the consistency of the slime.)

DIRECTIONS

1

Using a spoon, mix 6 oz. glue with 2 drops of essential oil and 1 tablespoon of confetti in a big bowl.

2

Mix in 1 tablespoon of water and 1 teaspoon of baking soda.

3

Mix in the contact solution as an activator. You'll notice a slime consistency will start to form and become firm. Keep stirring and manipulating the slime. Add some contact solution if it's still too sticky.

4

Eventually, you'll get a fun slime to play with that smells like a Christmas tree!

Tips:

While you could use white glue, I used Elmer's clear glue in this batch so that the fun Christmas confetti can show through the transparent slime.

You can find Christmas confetti online and at most craft stores, but I bought mine in the Target dollar section! So fun!

We decided to scent our slime with a nice Christmas tree essential oil blend. Smells so great, although completely optional. I think peppermint oil would smell nice, too.

There are a few ways to make slime, but we like using the contact solution. Make sure the brand you use contains boric acid and sodium borate so it'll work as an activator (I use this Blink brand). For an alternative, try using 1/2 cup of liquid starch like Stay-Flo instead of contact solution and baking soda.

Slime can last for weeks stored in a tightly covered container. However, I'd toss it if it gets moldy or starts to smell.
